Business Insights

- Growth is healthy and sustainable — sales and profit rose together while returns fell, meaning the business is selling more without sacrificing order quality
- Copiers are a strong margin driver and a good candidate for continued investment or promotion
- Tables are dragging down overall profit and should be reviewed for pricing, discounting, or cost issues
- California is the strongest profit-generating state and could serve as a model for scaling strategies to other regions
- The Consumer segment is the primary sales driver, suggesting marketing and retention efforts are most effective here — Corporate and Home Office segments may hold untapped growth potential
